MARKEAL DEVONTE DICKEY

October 10, 1993-June 5, 2015

Dignity, panache, dapper, courage, faith-filled and strength are all words that describe Markeal Dickey--- a leader and an innovator. He was a vibrant individual with a serene and enthusiastic personality. Even at such a young age, Markeal has left a legacy of leadership, empowerment, and dedication within the Tallahassee community. On June 5, 2015, Markeal Dickey transitioned to his eternal reward.

Markeal Devonte Dickey was born in Tallahassee, Florida on October 10, 1993, the third born child of Mr. Melvin and Dr. Marilyn Dickey. He inherited a legendary heritage of faith, family, character, music, leadership, and entrepreneurship.

Markeal was an active member of New Mt. Zion African Methodist Episcopal Church in Tallahassee, Florida. He was christened as a baby and later baptized alongside his sister, accepting Jesus Christ as his personal savior. Markeal served as an usher, youth choir member, Young People Division (YPD) member, and in the media ministry. He was a devoted Christian and truly loved the Lord.

Growing up, Markeal was an enthusiastic and cheerful child. His parents placed a high value on education and made enormous sacrifices to ensure that Markeal, his older brother, Tre, and his sister, Melesa, received the best possible education. Markeal's education began at Chaires Elementary

School. In 2001, he was moved to Roberts Elementary School where he joined the Boys Scouts of America, was a member of the soccer team, and was a proud graduate of the D.A.R.E. Program.

Markeal's musical and acting skills were evident early on. Being that his father was a zealous singer, pianist, guitarist, and drummer, Markeal took on singing lessons. He later debuted his impressive singing skills at the 2004 Jesse and Bessie Simmons Family Reunion where he sang "I Want It That Way" by the Backstreet Boys. In addition, Markeal was a model for Marsha Doll Models, where he was exposed to many print, commercial, acting, and runway jobs. No matter how small or big the activity, Markeal was determined to be involved.

From 2005 to 2008, Markeal attended Swift Creek Middle School where he began to make his mark within the community. Markeal followed in his brother Tre's footsteps and was a member of the Swift Creek Middle School band where he played percussions.

He was also a member of the track team, Student Government Association, and the Yearbook Club. As Markeal continued to maintain academic success, he decided he wanted to do and become something greater.

Markeal Dickey joined The Boys' Choir of Tallahassee, Florida at the age of 10. When he entered the choir he was a small boy with glasses and a smile that lit up the choir rehearsal hall. Markeal was placed in the 1st tenor section and eventually moved to the 2nd tenor section. As he grew older Markeal joined the show choir and praise team dancers that won 1st place Superior Awards every year at the Choral Music Festival. He was also a member of the choir's step team. Being a member of the boys' choir afforded Markeal and his fellow choir members an opportunity to perform at many prestigious venues and community outreach facilities including:

- The Essence Music Festival in New Orleans for Bishop T. D. Jakes
- Brookland Baptist Church, Columbia, South Carolina
- Empowerment Temple, Baltimore, Maryland
- The Walter Reed Army Medical Center for our nations wounded veterans
- Community service concerts for the Department of Juvenile Justice, Miami, Florida
- Westminster Oaks Nursing Home
- The opening of Tyler Perry's Motion Picture Studios, Atlanta, Georgia
- Both of President Barack Obama's Inaugurations
- The United States Pentagon
- Trinidad and Tobago
- Brown Chapel A.M.E. Church, Selma, Alabama
- Morehouse College, Atlanta, Georgia
- Florida Agricultural & Mechanical University
- Florida State University
- University of Florida
- Advent Christian Village
- Ebenezer Baptist Church of Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Dr. Earle Lee wrote that, "there is a void in the Boys' Choir family, a young man that we love so much has gone home to be with the Lord with 10 other choir members that proceeded him in death. We will miss Markeal greatly and we will never forget him. Gone home to glory is a young man that loved the Lord, was not ashamed of the gospel of Jesus Christ and loved his fellow brothers in the Boys' Choir. Sleep on my Son, my heart is hurting because I will miss you so much. You were not just a choir member, you were my Son and I love you with all my heart. I will see you at the River Jordan."

After completing middle school, Markeal attended Lincoln High School from 2008 to 2012. During his time at Lincoln, Markeal's academic achievements continued to soar. He was enrolled in the Advanced Placement (AP) program, where he took college level courses throughout his high school career. In addition to the AP courses he took, he was also enrolled in honors and gifted courses. Outside of the classroom, Markeal was a member of the Student Government Association, Key Club, Future Business Leaders of America, and was voted Senior Homecoming King 2011-2012.

In May of 2009, Markeal joined Distinguished Young Gentlemen of America, Inc. This exceptional program functions as an accelerated training ground for high school minority males, which develops and prepares the next generation of effective, local, state, and national leaders. In 2011, Markeal was elect president of the Tallahassee chapter of DYG and also served as the DYG Step Team Co-Captain. In addition, he actively participated in many community projects including:

- Project Goo/DYG Turkey Drive Give Away
- Riley House Museum Rock-a-thon
- Tallahassee Community College Black History Calendar Unveiling
- The 7th Annual Corporate CEO Breakfast
- COPE Press Conference
- New Members Service Learning Project,
- Back to School Community Experience
- City of Tallahassee Grand Parents Picnic

Immediately after graduating from high school in 2012, Markeal enrolled at Florida Agricultural and Mechanical University where he studied business. While he maintained his status on the Dean's List, he consistently made strides to become a leader at the university and ran for 2012-2013 Freshman Class President. Although he did not win the title, it did not stop him from being a leader at FAMU. Markeal stayed on with DYG during his college years and played critical roles in different campaigns, including one where he taught middle school students how to tie ties and urged them not to sag their pants.

FAMU held a special place in Markeal's heart. He was a fourth generation Rattler, following the footsteps of his mother, grandfather, great-grand mother and numerous aunts and uncles, as well as his brother and sister. Being the daring and valiant person he was, Markeal decided he wanted change; so he transferred to Tallahassee Community College (TCC) to earn his associate's degree. While at TCC, Markeal was the Prose Editor for the Eyrie Art and Literary Magazine, a writer for The Talon, and a member of the Global Gateway Program.

Upon receiving his associate's degree from TCC, Markeal enrolled at Florida State University where he was majoring in marketing and communications with an emphasis on editing, writing, and media and advertising. Markeal was destined for greatness. He was looking forward to a successful career in advertising.

Markeal's tireless efforts have earned recognition all over the City of Tallahassee and surrounding areas. Many people have benefited from the heart and soul of a great leader and humanitarian. No matter who you spoke to, Markeal was described the same across the board: brilliant, driven, well-respected, and community oriented.

Markeal leaves his legacy of love and reconciliation to his parents Melvin and Marilyn Dickey, his devoted brothers, Roosevelt "Tre" Ealey, and Desmond Dickey; his loving sister, Melesa Dickey; his nieces Tanyiah Ealey, Asia Dickey, Allesha James, and Keira Dickey; his maternal grandmother, Edith Y. Crump; caring godmothers Rhonda Hester and Althea "Sugar" Peterson; and a host of aunts, uncles, cousins, loving friends, and extended family.

My Sweet, Sweet, Baby Boy Markeal,

I am blessed! The presence of God blessed our home with life, love, joy, and peace. You, your brother and sister have always been the center of divine love attracting God's richest blessings. We have so much love in our home and that love truly comes from God on high. I am blessed!

You were a child of God. You always gave of yourself without expecting anything in return and your love for others was the force that multiplied your blessings higher and higher. When you were born, I was blessed by the Holy Spirit, and I thank God for the beautiful child he allowed me to care for, raise, and cherish for 21 years.

How I love you, "Lil Dude" and how I miss your beautiful smile and all the special little things you used to do and say. Sometimes you would call just to say "Hey Mom. What are you doing?" or simply "What's up?" Sometimes you would end with "love you." I loved you so much more. You always greeted and left me with a hug. I am blessed!

I know you know that I love you with all my heart. I miss you so much. Thank you for being such a wonderful son, Markeal, and making me so proud. I am truly a blessed mom!

The other evening, on June 5th, He came for you, but not without warning. I wanted you to stay home with Tre. Your dad wanted you to move back home with us, but God said it's time Markeal; your work is done.

I don't understand it now, but rest my baby boy; you're now in the arms of Jesus. I thank Him with all my heart and soul that he blessed me with you!

With never-ending love,
Mom

My Dearest "Money",

Nothing I have ever done has given me more joy and rewards than being a father to you and your siblings! The day I found out you were going to be born was one of the happiest moments of my life. No manual is given on how to raise a child, but I was going to do everything I could for you all. I think I have done almost everything possible for you, even to a fault at times, but I don't believe I would change a thing.

I have always been tight on a dollar. Markeal, with you, I never considered holding back. I know at times I demanded and expected a lot from you, but I only wanted you to be the best person you could be. I couldn't love or care about anyone more than I do my family! You make me so very proud and grateful to God that he allowed me to be your "Dad". I think your mom is amazing and is one of the most patient persons I have ever known. I know that you appreciated everything she did for you – she loves you so very much! I know she feels the same way I do; you are a blessing to us.

There was a time that I tried to push you into sports, but that wasn't your thing. Still, I was so proud of you for trying! When I signed you up for singing lessons, you did so well. In school, you worked hard, and you were rewarded with all kinds of honors. I also notice how you interacted with your friends and what a great young man you were becoming; supporting our community and taking on leadership roles in every organization you joined. I am so proud of you!

There are so many things I could write about you, but I just want you to never ever doubt how much joy you gave me. You are the most important investment I have ever made in my life. When the time came, I looked forward to you moving on to college to find out where your life journey would lead, but recently, something made me feel that I needed you near.

In closing, I Love You, "Money", and I am so proud of the man you became. I am proud to be your Dad. You will always be my son and missed forever!

"I love you with all my heart!"

~Dad

Dear Money,

I would like to say that I love you. You are my brother, but more than that, you are my best friend. You helped me through my hard times. When I was in a dark place, you moved in with me and gave me life. I will always cherish our moments together. I remember our late night conversations that would last until the morning. We learned from each other. I've always looked after you and anything I had, you also know it was yours. I watched you grow from a baby to a respectable man. Everyone that knows you loves you and I never met anyone that couldn't. Even my friends viewed you as their younger brother. I can't believe you're gone, but although we don't understand it, I do know that God does not make mistakes. Rest in peace little brother.

Love,

Tre

Baby Brother,

Words cannot begin to express the pain I feel knowing that you are no longer here, but I celebrate your life, I know that God does not make any mistakes, and I am happy to know that you made your mark on this earth before you left.

Although I was only 3 ½ years old, I will never forget the day you were born. I did not take too kindly of your arrival. You interrupted my sleep and I remember crying as I was handed over to Grandma while Mom and Dad went to the hospital. When I finally saw you, I looked at you and thought how YOU could be MY brother. I just could not wrap my little tiny head around the fact that you and I were one in the same. But once you were home, you embraced me and I put my baby dolls down and you became my real life baby doll. Even though we both grew up, you remained my "baby".

Growing up, you, Tre, and I were inseparable. Mom and Dad were adamant about us looking out for each other, so we stuck together no matter what. And although we had our fights, they were nothing more than an argument over whose turn it was to use the house phone. We made the most out of everything. Like when we didn't have a jump rope so Tre swung you by the arms in a circle while I jumped over your flying body or when we were forced to be quiet on long car rides and you would still whisper silly stuff in my ear—resulting in me getting in trouble from bursting into laughter. We were all so close. I will miss our group iMessages with Mom, Tre, you and me because they were SO hilarious! Sending funny cat pictures and memes because it could easily make any of us chuckle. I will miss our secret language—I can hear you now, “meow”.

I watched you grow into such an amazing young man. I envied you a lot, and people knew that. Your interpersonal skills were impeccable, the drive and passion you had for being a leader, and the dedication you exemplified in your studies were admirable. Mom and Dad did a great job with us but you had something more. You were special in so many ways and everyone knew that. I am so proud of you and all of your accomplishments. I'm still amazed at how many people knew you and knew how you were as a person.

Growing up with two brothers has been precious and I will cherish you and our loving relationship. You helped me be a better person, just by being you. You radiated love all the time. You had this magnetic personality and the ability to think so grandly, that sometimes I was taken back to the 3 ½ old me, and wondered how we could have been related. Our lives will always be intertwined. You are the best baby brother I could have ever asked for. I will miss you.

I will forever love and cherish you.

~Melesa

I'm still with you

I know that it's hard for you right now, but I'm okay.
I was taught to put all of my trust in God who will lead me, guide me and protect me.

He did that for me and really, I'm okay. I'm resting now.
Although I'm not with you physically anymore, I'm with you spiritually.
I'm in your thoughts, I'm in your prayers, and I'm in your hearts.
When you laugh, I'll laugh with you. When you cry, I'll cry with you.
God loved me so much that he wanted me to rest from my labor on this side.
I don't know why He wanted me so soon, but as I was taught, we have to trust God and know that He knows what's best for us, even when we don't understand it. He's too wise to make a mistake.

When you think of me, I'm there. When you pray about me, I'm there. As long as you never forget me, I'll always be with you.
I know that you will cry and that's okay. God will use your tears to help cleanse your soul. It's good for you, so don't feel bad when you cry.
Not only will God wipe away your tears, He will also comfort you.
Day by day it will get a little easier. It doesn't mean that you won't hurt because you will.

It doesn't mean that some days you won't think that you have the strength to go on, but you can.

Remember, you will see me again. I'm okay, I'm still with you, right there in your heart.

So when you start missing me, just remember my smile remember my jokes and know that one day soon, we will all be together again.

RESOLUTION

Brother Markeal Devonte Dickey

“The righteous man perishes, and no one lays it to heart; devout men are taken away, while no one understands. For the righteous man is taken away from calamity; he enters into peace; they rest in their beds who walk in their uprightness.”

Isaiah 57: 1-2

And we will light a candle for you Markeal,

To shatter all the darkness and bless the times we knew,

Like a beacon in the night the flame will burn bright and guide us on our way,

Oh, today we light a candle for you,

The seasons come and go, and we are weary from the change,

We keep moving on, you know it's not the same,

And when we are walking all alone

Do you hear us call your name?

Do you hear us sing the songs we used to sing?

You filled our lives with wonder, touched us with surprise,

We always saw that something special deep within your eyes

And through the good times and the bad

We carry on with pride

We hold onto this never-ending flame deep within hearts,

We light this candle for you Markeal to forever magnify the powerful legacy of your shining star.

With heartfelt regards, we the Distinguished Young Gentlemen of America, Inc., extend to you the family of our beloved brother, Markeal Devonte Dickey, our deepest and sincere sympathy in the loss of a truly gifted, dynamic and transformational leader; with nothing but greatness to offer society. May you rely heavily upon our Heavenly Father to sustain you during your time of sorrow and grief, believing that God can and will heal all sorrow. We mourn, but not as those who have no hope, but as those who one day expect to meet our beloved brother again.

Whereas it has pleased the Eternal Father in His Infinite wisdom and mercy to remove from his earthly duties, Brother Markeal Dickey, a prominent member of our beloved organization, Distinguished Young Gentlemen of America, Inc., where he was duly inducted with all rights and privileges on August 29, 2009 and served with great passion and conviction as President of the Tallahassee Chapter from 2011-2012. He was a shining star and a remarkable gift from God that always upheld the aims of Manly Deeds and Servant Leadership. The epitome of "A Distinguished Young Gentleman" Brother Dickey was Live, Thorough, and Sharp In Every Way.

We pray God's blessings upon his family, mother, Dr. Marilyn Dickey, father, Melvin Dickey and his siblings, Roosevelt Ealey, Melesa Dickey and Desmond Dickey. During this time of sorrow and bereavement, we are reminded of the gospel according to John 14:3, which states, "Let not your heart be troubled; ye believe in God, believe also in me. In my father's house are many mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you. I go away to prepare a place for you. And if I go, and prepare a place for you, I will come again and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye be also."

Be it resolved that we bow in humble submission to Him who does not make a mistake.

Be it also resolved that we extend to you our love and prayers and commend you to our Master, who is always there. Markeal is now resting in the bosom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. We pray also that the Lord will make you strong, bring your peace, and soothe your aching sorrows.

May God bless, protect, guide and comfort you always in your time of sorrow.

“Achieving Noteworthy Dreams”

“Whosoever liveth and believeth in Me shall never die.” John 11:26

We thank Thee, for our wife, mother, dear friend and faithful worker of the Lord, Whose truth, integrity and beauty of spirit is enshrined in our hearts.

WHEREAS, The Dickey family and Distinguished Young Gentlemen of America, Inc have suffered a great loss in the home-going of Brother Markeal Dickey, who was loved by all who knew him. He lived a respectful and charismatic life and has served his Lord well. His loyalty to his parents, his faithfulness to God and his student peers, and his kindness to his teachers and mentors shall ever be a living memorial to his beautiful life.

WHEREAS, Mr. Dickey departed this life on Friday, June 5, 2015 and will no longer go about his accustomed duties, we mourn, not as those who have no hope, but as those who expect to meet with him again in that New Jerusalem, the City of God.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that we strive to emulate his beautiful service filled life in every respect, that we express our sympathy to his sorrowing family, and present them a copy of this resolution, with the reminder that Jesus, the Man of Sorrows, is able to comfort us by His Holy Spirit. For the scripture says, “Brothers and sisters, we do not want you to be uninformed about those who sleep in death, so that you do not grieve like the rest of mankind, who have no hope. ¹⁴ For we believe that Jesus died and rose again, and so we believe that God will bring with Jesus those who have fallen asleep in him. ¹⁵ According to the Lord’s word, we tell you that we who are still alive, who are left until the coming of the Lord, will certainly not precede those who have fallen asleep. ¹⁶ For the Lord himself will come down from heaven, with a loud command, with the voice of the archangel and with the trumpet call of God, and the dead in Christ will rise first. ¹⁷ After that, we who are still alive and are left will be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air. And so we will be with the Lord forever. ¹⁸ Therefore encourage one another with these words (I Thessalonians: 13-18).
